

CAMP SINGS AGAIN !!!

The mess hall and the Horse-shoe swelled in song for the first time in quite a while Monday as campers and staff joined in joyful voices. At the Horse-shoe, Wayne Towne taught the camp the Camp Song, and Monday at Lunch, with Kenny Robbins at the piano, the camp sang with song sheets once again. It was quite wonderful to see the camp in voice again.

The Mystery of Irv's Hand

By Mitchell Kreeger, Cabin 7

Irv Kasian, the Crafts instructor and Mini-Bike procurer from Cabin 4, got his hand crushed by the trailer and the rear fender of the Camp bus. At the time, Irv, and another counsellor, (name unknown) were moving a trailer containing 300 gallons of gasoline by hand. Irv and the other counsellor unhooked the trailer from the bus. Then, Irv asked the other counsellor to move the bus forward so that it wouldn't be in the way. But, instead of moving forward, the bus took time to get in gear, and moved backwards and crushed Irv's hand. Irv is fine now, and should be back to his regular work very soon.

COUNSELLOR CORNER

By Mike Lurie, CIT (7)

In the middle of a man to man to man talk, I tried to interview TOM HARMS, Land Sports counsellor from Cabin 12. By man to man, etc., I mean there were 3 other people in the room: Larry Gordon, Gary Silbar, and Ray Krysh who needless to say, answered most of the questions even tho it wasn't his interview!

Tom, a new counsellor in Cabin 12, is schooling at the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana. He came to Waupaca because the camping "atmosphere" pleased him. He likes to teach football to boys saying, "it gives them a chance to experience rough, contact sports."

At 19 years of age, Tom has a big future at Waupaca. When asked about the food he only said, "Home was never like this!"

Coming Events

By Jonathan Mintz, Cabin 7

Manny said that we could look forward to a great summer's activities. He especially said that we would have a great Olympics because, believe it or not, BOB HALE, former player on the New York Yankees was coming to Camp during the week of July 22!

We can also look forward to Gold Rush Day where the camp will gather "gold" from the fields of Waupaca and exchange it for money. Then spend it at carnival-type booths.

Other activities upcoming are the World Series where competition teams play against each other, the Early Bird Trip, and the Blue and White War. Paul Warshauer said we could look forward to the Camp Play, the ODD COUPLE. It should be ready in about two weeks. The cast should be announced to Ron said that we could look forward to the Moment of Madness on Sunday.

Guess Who????

Who is the mystery boy who has been put in the American League after one ballgame? There are three boys going into the American League, but guess who it took two games to be switched? Who is this camper who has been switched? Which Cabin is he in??

If you can guess, save your answer for next issue's PUZZLE PAGE.
