Hi Paul,

It was great talking to you. To get Bibi (my wife) and Michael and Michelle into the article, I suggest the following. These aren't great suggestions, so I'm open to better ideas.

Bibi didn't take part in the relay, but she and I did go rowboating on Saturday. Perhaps you could mention that I wanted to show her where Warren taught the 10,000 water skiers or something to that effect.

Michael did do a running event in the relay (Michelle didn't participate), but perhaps you could mention both of them wondering why their father would bump into someone knocking the silverware out of their hand, and instead of apologizing, start yelling at them. Of course they quickly figured it out, but I don't know what else to say!

Here's the verse from the Blue/White War song from 1966. Rick Prizant was the Big Chief and Jim Avery the Little Chief. To the tune of Supercalifragilisticexpialadocious.

Oh, Super Rick is extra thick because he is precocious.
He's the one who has the fun with girls who are atrocious.
When he muscles, campers hustle, Rick is so ferocious.
He's the chief, without a beef, there's bull enough for both us.

Hum diddle iddle iddle,
Hum diddle eye.
Hum diddle iddle iddle,
Hum diddle eye.

Oh, give us Jimmy Avery, now there's an easy match.
When he is on the wrestling mat, he's not so hard to catch.
Just take away his scarlet socks and burn his gray sweatpants.
And let him wrestle Chavin, for he wouldn't stand a chance.

That's all I remember.

I hope this helps!

Larry
